Addison-based Worksoft Inc., a business validation software company, has expanded its headquarters off the Dallas North Tollway.

The decision to stay at The Madison, an office building at 15851 N. Dallas Parkway, was reached after an extensive headquarters' search, CFO Lee Constantino said in a written statement.

Worksoft signed a lease for 12,807 square feet, which expanded its footprint in the building. The details of the expansion were not immediately available.

Jones Lang LaSalle's Andy Leatherman represented Worksoft in the deal. Mark Harrison of Granite Properties represented the landlord.

Dallas-Fort Worth's leasing activity has increased year-over-year, ranking as the No. 2 office leasing market in the United States in 2013. Last year, Dallas-Fort Worth commercial real estate professionals leased 4.2 million square feet of space.
